

MEN FLEEING TO U. S. ARE JEERED

Scotch Resent Departure of British and Irish From Glasgow.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—With the arrival Tuesday night of the Anchor liner California it was learned that hundreds of Scotch women and old men jeered and hooted at a number of Englishmen and Irishmen of military age who left Glasgow for the United States on the California.

A mob crowded the pier for hours before the vessel sailed and kept up an incessant tirade against those who they felt were shirking military duty. The firemen and stokers were appealed to by the crowd, with the result that they refused to stoke the ship out of port unless the men were put ashore. An indignation meeting was held and British soldiers harangued the crowd for two hours in an effort to induce those on the ship to enlist. Only two men answered the appeal.

The crew was satisfied with the explanation that the British government intended to place an embargo on Irishmen and Englishmen leaving for America within a few days and returned to their posts. The pier mob, however, continued its jeering and shouting until the liner was well at sea.

In the California's steerage were 247 men of fighting age out of a total of 252, of whom 11 were women. The liner brought $3,000,000 in gold.

700 Irishmen Turned Back.

Passengers who arrived on the Cunarder Saxonia reported that rioting occurred at the Liverpool docks when 123 men who had booked passage in the second cabin and more than 700 other men, chiefly Irishmen of military age, were refused passage after the liner's crew had threatened to strike if any British citizen of military age was allowed to sail.

When the 123 men who had engaged passage started to board the steamer it was noticed that most of them were young men. The crew held a meeting and a few minutes later a statement was presented to the Saxonia's first officer that the crew would walk off the ship if any man of military age came aboard.

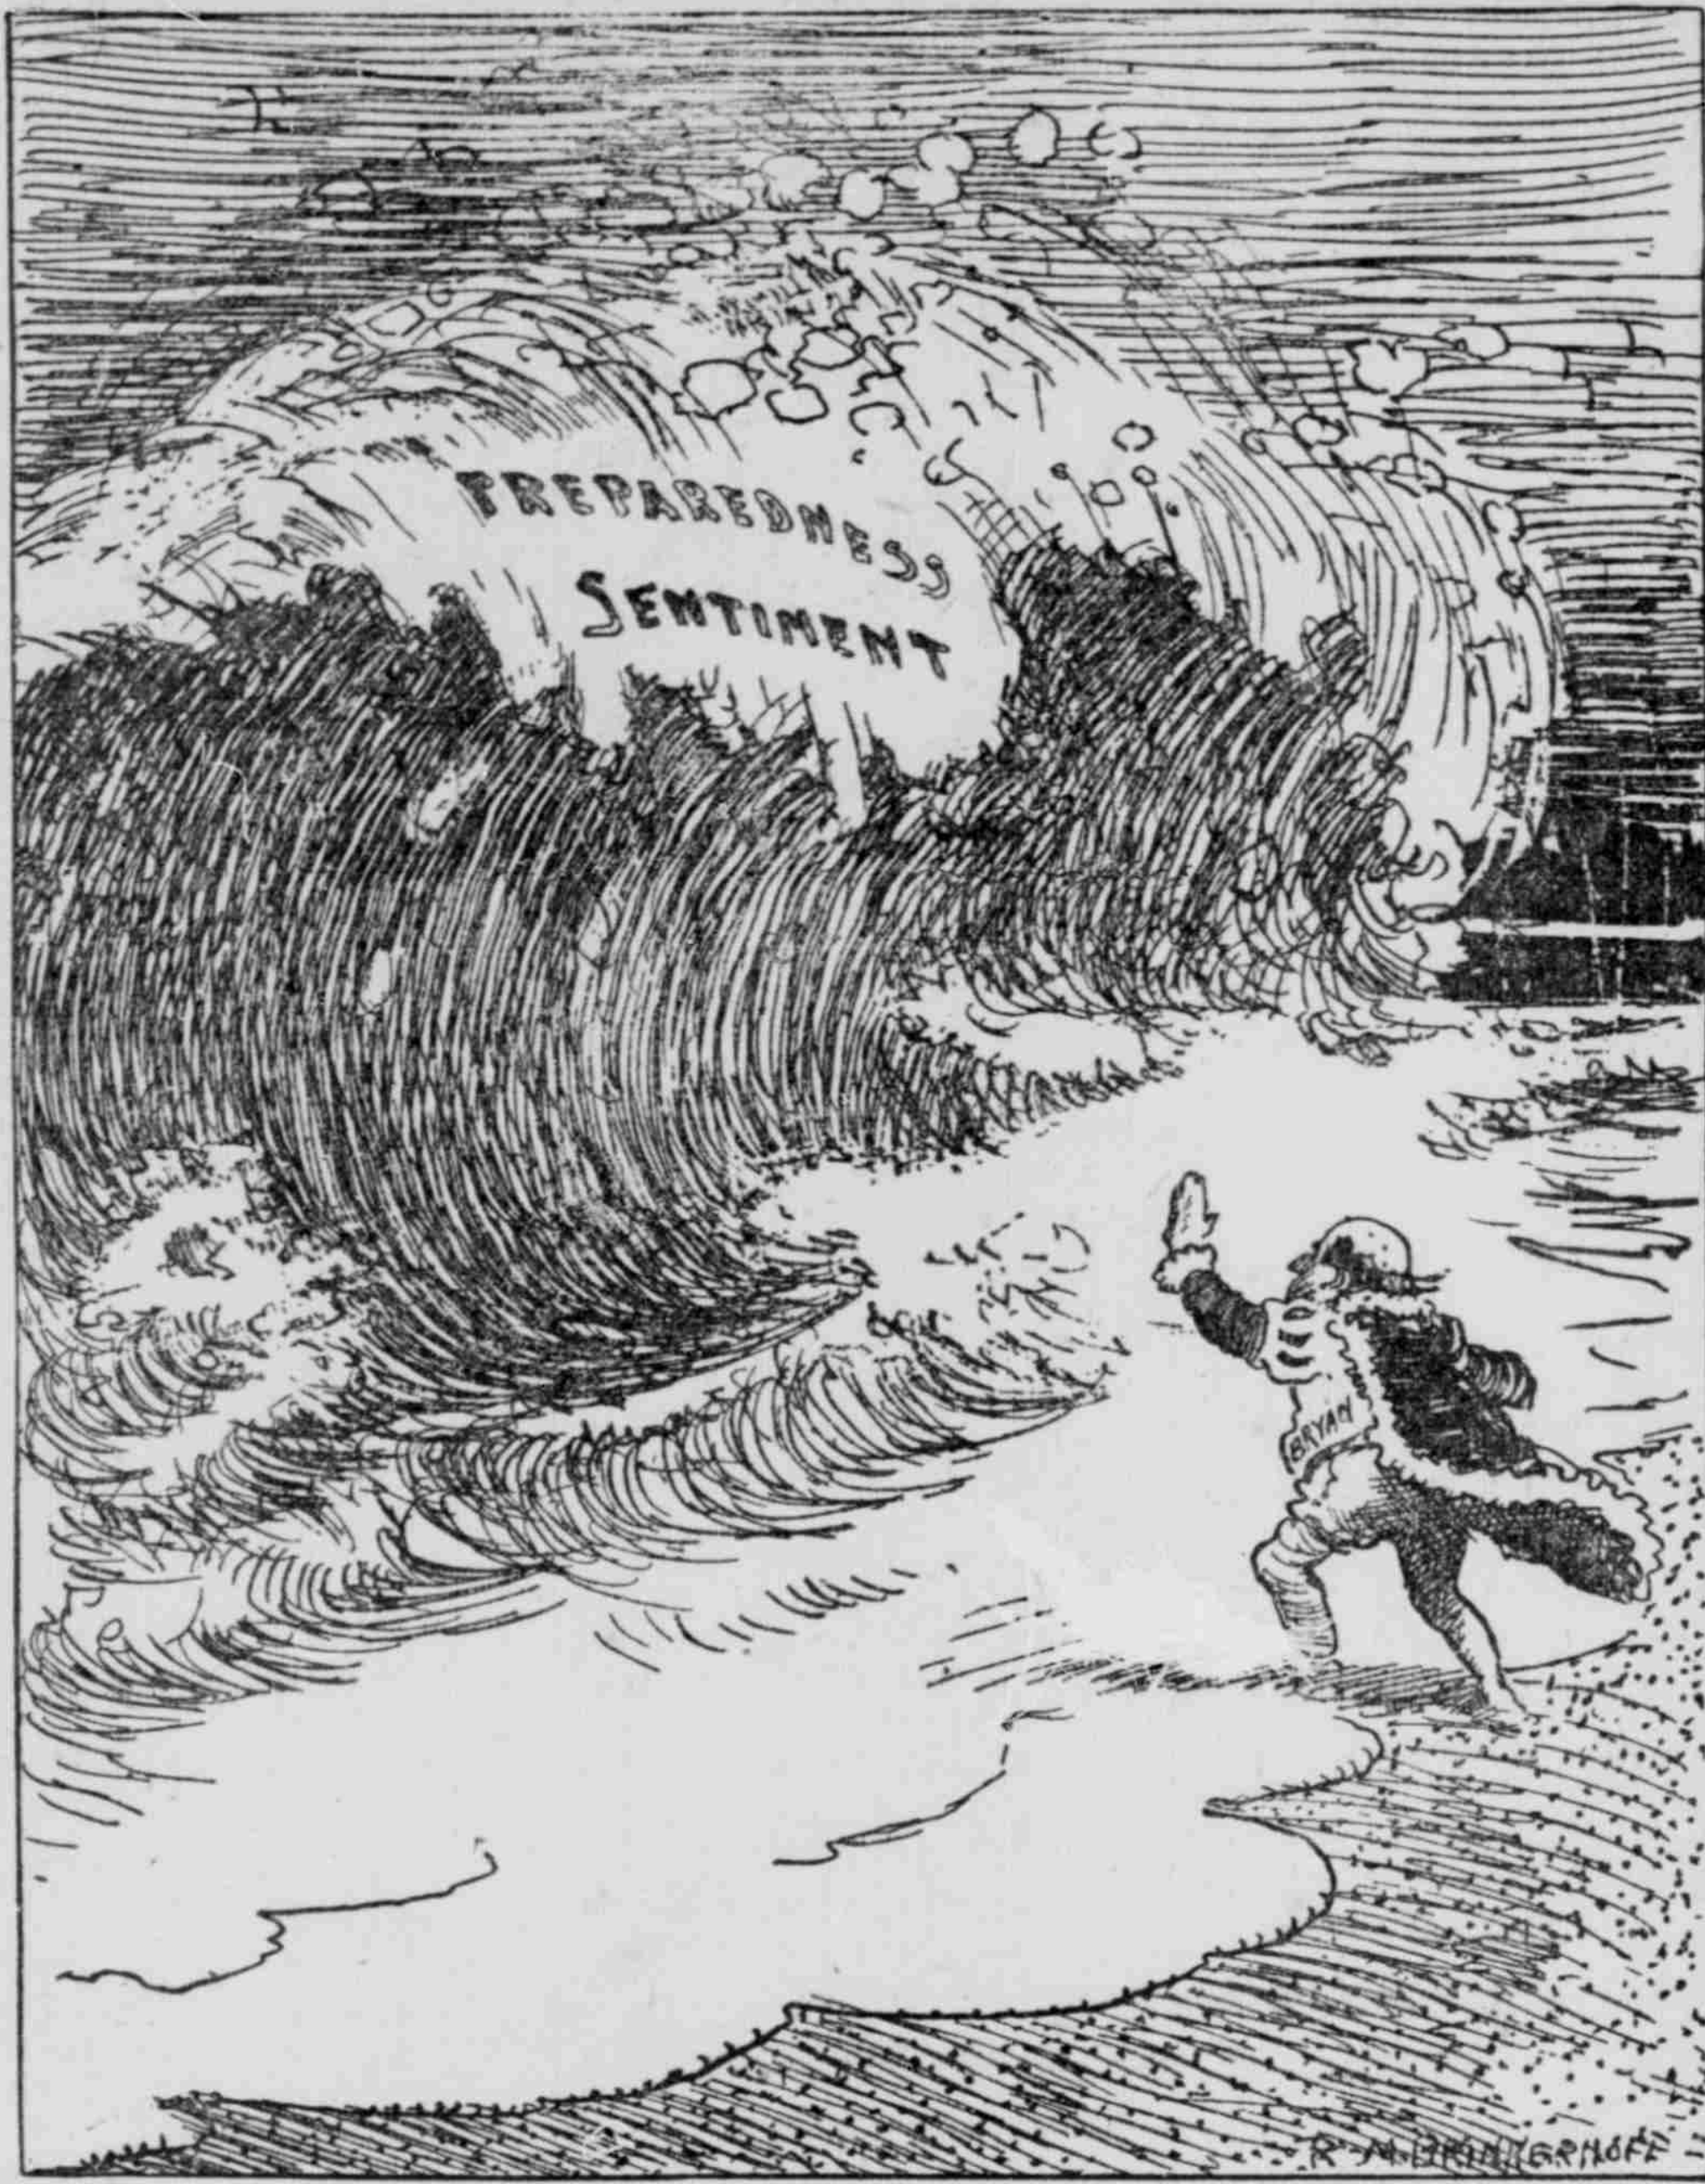

The stokers laid down their shovels pending a decision upon their demands, and other members of the crew refused to work. Officials of the line were notified and hastily decided to agree to the demands of the crew. It was then, passengers declared, that the rioting started. The 800 men on the pier made a great disturbance in trying to board the vessel.

The number of Irishmen who sought to get passage on the Saxonia is larger than any similar delegation which has sailed or sought to sail from English ports recently. Several smaller delegations of Irishmen were refused passage on steamers which have arrived here in the last few weeks.

The Saxonia brought gold sovereigns valued at $2,750,000 for various consignees.

liner Tuscania sailed for New York Tuesday with 200 passengers aboard.

When the Cunarder departed 50 young men eligible for military service were left on the dock, owing to their inability to show passports from the foreign office as recently required. The new regulation is being enforced to prevent the emigration from the country of "slackers" desirous of avoiding enlistment.

MOTHER AGREES TO LET HER BABY DIE

Nature's Blunder Will be Left Entirely to Nature, Says Chicago Physician.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—A baby is dying in the German-American hospital. The hospital staff is doing nothing to save its life. The little one will be dead within 48 hours. And Mrs. Anna Bollinger, mother of the infant, has approved the plan to allow her baby to die.

Nature blundered when Mrs. Bollinger's baby was born. Dr. H. J. Haiselden, chief of the hospital staff, told the mother that a surgical operation would save the baby. He also told her that the child would grow up to manhood malformed, mentally defective and probably become a criminal. Mrs. Bollinger thought the matter over and told the doctor she was willing that he allow the child to die.

"I have no doubt I will be called a murderer," said Dr. Haiselden today, "but my conscience tells me it would be wrong to let this child live. I will do nothing to hasten the death of the baby, but nature will be permitted to complete its bungling job."

Mrs. Bollinger, the baby's mother, said she was reconciled to the death of the baby.

"I love the child as much as I love my three healthy children," she said, "but I would rather it should die than be an imbecile or a criminal."

JOINT WAR BOARD MEETS

French and British Leaders Get Together in Paris.

PARIS, Nov. 17.—The first joint meeting of the new English war committee and the French war board was held today. This is in line with the policy of closer cooperation agreed upon by the English and French governments.

Premier Asquith, David Lloyd-

George, minister of munitions; A. J. Balfour, first lord of the admiralty, and Sir Edward Grey, the foreign minister, arrived last night.

Sir Edward is not a member of the war committee, but his advice is asked on special occasions. The Balkan situation was discussed thoroughly. Not only the military needs but the diplomatic phase was canvassed by the conferees.
